Overview of the CDL Exam

The CDL exam consists of three parts: a written test, a skills test, and a road test. The written test is a multiple-choice exam that covers a range of topics, including:

- General knowledge
- Air brakes
- Combination vehicles
- Hazardous materials
- Tankers

The skills test is a hands-on exam that assesses your ability to operate a commercial vehicle safely. The road test is a driving test that evaluates your ability to drive a commercial vehicle in real-world conditions.

Types of CDL Tests

There are three main types of CDL tests:

- Class A CDL: This type of CDL allows you to drive any combination of vehicles with a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) of 26,001 pounds or more, provided the towed vehicle has a GVWR of 10,001 pounds or more.

- Class B CDL: This type of CDL allows you to drive any single vehicle with a GVWR of 26,001 pounds or more, or any such vehicle towing a vehicle with a GVWR of less than 10,001 pounds.
- Class C CDL: This type of CDL allows you to drive any single vehicle, or combination of vehicles, with a GVWR of 26,000 pounds or less, provided the towed vehicle has a GVWR of 10,000 pounds or less.

Key Topics Covered on the CDL Test

The CDL test covers a wide range of topics, including:

- General knowledge: This includes questions about basic vehicle operation, traffic laws, and safety regulations.
- Air brakes: This includes questions about the operation and maintenance of air brake systems.
- Combination vehicles: This includes questions about the safe operation of combination vehicles, such as tractor-trailers and doubles.
